

Jean ready to board the train for Vorkuta

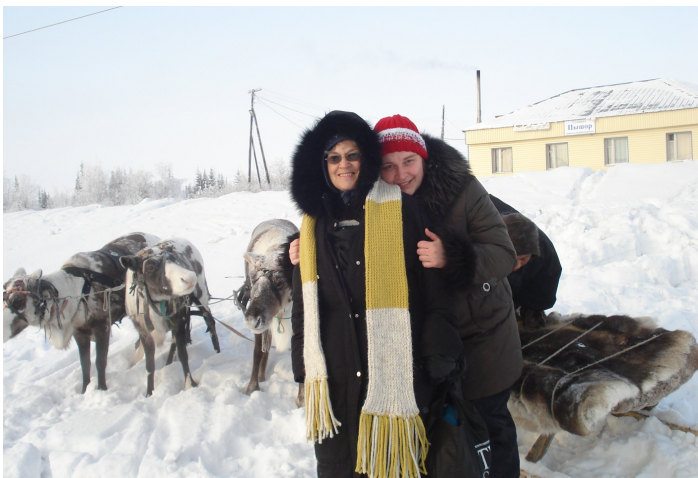

Russians, Ukrainians, Nentsy and Americans at church

Jean and Garry with Nentsy believers at church

Garry speaking in church service

Jean and Natasha ready to "saddle up" and head north

Typical snow scene---many times 5 feet deep

Garry giving gifts to Nentsy children

Some of the Nentsy children to whom we gave gifts

The boys will likely become reindeer herdsmen like their fathers

Natasha with Nentsy children

First generation of Nentsy to receive formal education

Dad parked the "car" at the boarding school so Mom could visit her little ones

Breakfast in a teepee

Cook stove and central heating system

Nentsy tent home on the tundra

Jean and part of the "congregation" at preaching inside a teepee

The team with the family of unsaved, pagan Nentsy to whom we ministered

Garry and one of the reindeer herders traveling across the vast, frozen tundra

Volodya Geraskin preaching in a teepee

“A road less traveled”

Sonya gladly accepted the tract Jean gave her

Hats and scarves given by an Alabama church

Jean took socks to this man in a nursing home she had visited 2 years ago. He was overjoyed that she remembered him.

Garry presents computer to Pastor Ivan